

Related Beal to Develop 239-Unit Affordable, Workforce Residential Project in Boston

The new residential development will bring 239 affordable and workforce residential units to Boston's Bulfinch Triangle area.

BOSTON — Related Beal has unveiled its plans to develop a 239-unit affordable and workforce residential development in Boston's Bulfinch Triangle neighborhood. The 14-story, 484,000-square-foot residential property will be part of a mixed-use development that will include a 220-key hotel, street-level retail space and on-site parking. The residential units will be restricted to and available for individuals, couples and families with qualified incomes ranging from 30 percent to 165 percent area median income. CBT Architects is providing architectural services for the project. Construction is expected to begin by December with completion slated for 2017.
